Florida Music Educators' Association Strategic Plan 2011-2013

Teaching and Learning in Music

The FMEA will focus on the improvement of music teaching and learning with direction toward preparing students to be successful - musically, academically and creatively.

Rationale: FMEA's continuing challenge is to promote comprehensive, balanced and sequential music instruction for all students based upon the National Standards and the Florida Next Generation Sunshine State Standards for Music Education. Successful implementation of these standards is dependent on strong curriculum, instruction and assessment models. The FMEA plays an important role in identifying, and at times, developing these models as well as providing professional development related to curriculum, instruction and assessment. Teaching and learning models must address music diversity in order to ensure equal access for all Florida students. Music learned in school must be relevant to the music experiences students have outside the school. Culture, socioeconomic status, special needs nor geography should preclude anyone from having a rich education that includes music.

Strategies

- A.1 Devise ways to promote the use of the Florida Next Generation Sunshine State Standards and cross-curricular applications.

Action:

- A.1.1 Promote and develop outreach workshops for districts of need, and conferences that focus on the Next Generation Sunshine State Standards.

- A.1.3 Identify and promote models for music education through cutting edge state of the art technology.

- A.2 Provide professional development in support of the curriculum, instruction, and assessment initiatives.

Action:

- A.2.1 Design a program that develops teachers as researchers, i.e., engaging music teachers in research consumption, understanding and interpretation.
- A.2.2 Support the ongoing development and review of the standards and course descriptions.

- A.2.5 Research and offer curriculum mapping models with embedded assessments.
- A.2.6 Create links on the FMEA web site to address curricular interest areas (e.g., Bulletin Board for Questions and Answers.)
- A.2.7 Include focus sessions at conference in areas of critical need: e.g. technology, diversity, world music, ESOL, ESE, etc.

- A.2.8 Develop FMEA publications, brochures, and materials that address specific needs (e.g. compile collection of previously published articles from the Florida Music Director and post on the website.)

- A.7.2 Collaborate with FSMA to analyze data regarding current ensembles in school programs.

A.7.3 Develop strategies to address commercial music and music industry topics in music classrooms.

Music Teacher Recruitment and Retention

The FMEA will insure quality music instruction for all students by identifying strong potential educators and supporting teachers in the profession.

Rationale: In the state of Florida, music positions go unfilled because there are no qualified applicants or they are filled by teachers who do not have a degree in music education. Reports indicate that 30 to 50 percent of new teachers who work in urban settings leave the field in their first three years of service. More experienced teachers are retiring earlier. To assure continued quality music instruction, FMEA must work within its own programs and activities and in collaboration with others to recruit more teachers to music education, nurture new teachers, and continue to support and energize veteran teachers.

Strategies

B.1 Continue to develop a comprehensive mentor program for new teachers, new teachers to Florida, and experienced teachers in need of improving expertise and changing focus or levels.

- B.1.1 Identify and provide professional development training for mentors.
- B.1.2 Coordinate mentor resources with component organizations to identify and assist teachers through the organization of seminars at the state conference, summer conferences, and district meetings for teachers.
- B.1.3 Identify early career teachers and offer assistance.
- B.1.4 Identify alternative certified teachers and offer assistance.

B.2 Support awards program that recognizes teachers, administrators, and arts advocates including state and community leaders who support music education.

- B.2.1 Conduct an annual review of recognition awards to be presented at the FMEA Clinic/Conference.
- B.2.2 Determine award recipients through a nomination process that involves component organizations.

B.3 Develop a program to encourage diverse segments of Florida students to seek music education as a career.

- B.3.1 Support TRI-M/FCMENC collaborations and involvement in FMEA activities.
- B.3.2 Encourage high school music students to enter a music education career.
- B.3.3 Provide presentations to CMENC chapters, school districts, and college music education classes.
- B.3.4 Create summer leadership opportunities for Tri-M students.
- B.3.5 Develop active collaborations between classroom and university resources to promote world class teacher preparation supported by current research and technology.

B.4 Create opportunities that promote life-long learning in music, as well as a resource directory for retirees that includes services that retirees can provide on a local or state level.

- B.4.1 Identify retirees to assist with mentoring.

Leadership

The FMEA will improve its effectiveness by developing and nurturing responsive, effective, world class, expert teachers able to provide unifying and visionary leadership for the membership.

Rationale: Leadership development is vital to the future of the FMEA. Efforts must be placed on continuing to identify and train future leaders. Leadership training will focus on skills needed at the campus, district and state levels. As our student and teacher populations become more diverse, leaders must develop unifying visions that preserve the strengths of our existing programs while expanding programs to meet these diverse needs.

- C.1 Develop a comprehensive vision for FMEA and the component associations that preserves the strengths of our existing programs and embraces the changing educational environment.
 - C.1.1 Support the work of the Future Directions Committee
 - C.1.2 Base the content of the Summer Institute on the findings of the Future Directions Committee.

- C.2 Support and refine a comprehensive program to develop leaders in the field of music education.
 - C.2.1 Create a leadership training program that includes three levels of knowledge and skills (e.g., Level I, Basic; Level II, Intermediate, Level III, Advanced – Advanced will include extensive advocacy training.)
 - C.2.2 Continue to support leadership development through component organizations.
 - C.2.3 Continue to support a statewide network of TRI-M that may include: chapter access through the FMEA website and a mini-conference of state TRI-M chapters.
 - C.2.4 Survey retired FMEA members about their interest in leadership opportunities in both district and statewide activities.
 - C.2.5 Support collaboration among colleges universities and FMEA in the implementation of leadership training programs.

- C.3. Encourage leadership training, development, and participation from diverse segments of Florida.

Advocacy and Alliances

The FMEA will nurture cooperative relationships with other organizations, agencies and professions whose ambitions and goals are shared by FMEA.

Rationale: FMEA must maintain our partnerships with other arts and education associations, universities, industry, the arts and entertainment communities, and decision makers. We must continue to lead the way by nurturing alliances with organizations with which we share common interests. FMEA will lead these alliances by setting directions, brokering resources, and establishing criteria for success. Educational reform has made it imperative to work collaboratively to advocate effectively for time and access to a quality, sequential arts education for all students.
